

Abstract of the Disclosure

A color changer includes a first passageway and a second passageway. A valve is coupled to the first passageway and the second passageway to control color
5 flow between the first and second passageways. The first passageway is adapted to permit the passage of a color-conserving pig through the first passageway.

IND802 RDC 417473

1002494-121701